Item 4 Other Business Activities

Brett Heniss is a licensed insurance agent. Mr. Heniss only offers insurance products in states where he is licensed. This practice represents a conflict of interest. There is a financial incentive for Mr. Heniss to recommend products that pay him a commission or other compensation. The conflict mitigation steps include disclosures, the Code of Ethics, Mr. Heniss' fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the client first. There is no obligation to purchase any commission based or other compensated products. Clients have the option to purchase any recommended products through the insurance agent of their choosing.

AdvisorMax, LLC: AdvisorMax, LLC is an affiliate of FTA which sells insurance and annuity products to FTA clients. AdvisorMax, LLC, is an insurance and annuity field marketing organization ("FMO") A FMO is a platform that brings insurance companies and insurance agents together. AdvisorMax recruits insurance agents to its wholesale platform of insurance products and product support. The platform allows agents to access the product offerings of insurance product underwriters. When a supported agent sells a product, the insurance or annuity company pays a sales commission directly to AdvisorMax. The selling agent also is paid a commission based on the value of the product. The insurance company pays AdvisorMax the commission. In some instances, FTA's investment advisory representatives may sell insurance products using AdvisorMax as the FMO. Sales commissions paid to FTA advisory representatives are separate from FTA's advisory fees.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

Mr. Heniss does not receive any additional compensation resulting from his advisory activities. He does receive additional compensation from the outside business activities described above.

Mr. Heniss does not receive performance-based fees.

Item 6 Supervision
